Panicky Conditions Prevail

ened Territory

BALTIMORE, May 3.—The Roosevelt campaign for Maryland's 16 delegates to the Republican national convention came to a climax tonight with the former president's visit to Baltimore. Colonel Roosevelt was welcomed by a large crowd. He was taken through the city at the head of a parade, with red fire and the blare of bands as a setting.

Colonel Roosevelt made three speeches, vigorously attacking his opponents and defending himself from criticism.

"I ask you, the people of Maryland," said he, "to speak to the primaries on Monday so that the boss and the great sinister influence which lies behind the boss everywhere in the United States shall realize that there is another state where the people rule themselves."

"Our opponents always speak of us as 'the people on the Fourth of July,'" he continued, "but when we want a direct primary or something of the kind, they suffer an instant change, and we become 'the mob.'"

To Stay in Fight Until Win.

"This fight is just begun. Our opponents might just as well make up their minds that we are going to stay in it until we win. We're going to have direct election of United States senators for one thing. We may not always get the right man, but I'll guarantee that we will do better than when they are selected by the bosses. And when we get direct election of senators, the United States senate will cease to be a house of reform senators of the 'Lorimer' type."

Colonel Roosevelt made a leisurely stroll through Maryland today, pausing here and there to shake hands with the people. He was in contrast with his recent campaign in other states, his day was an easy one. He made only two speeches before reaching Baltimore, except for a few impromptu one-minute talks from his car. At Salisbury and at Havre de Grace, where he delivered his set speeches, he was received cordially by large crowds.

Colonel Roosevelt went first into the eastern part of the state, speaking at Salisbury. Several thousand persons assembled in an open space near the center of the town to hear him.

The meeting at Havre de Grace was more like a picnic than a political gathering.

Denounces Vote Selling Evil.

Colonel Roosevelt said he had been told that large sums of money were being spent in an effort to buy the votes of negroes. In his speeches the colonel talked of vote buying, saying that the man who sold his vote was guilty of treason to the republic, and that in the case of the negro he was injuring his race by such action.

A huge crowd gathered at the Lyric theater to hear Colonel Roosevelt's speech here tonight. Only a part of the throng was able to gain admittance, and the colonel spoke for a few minutes at an open-air rally. Later he addressed a meeting of negroes at the Metropolitan Methodist Episcopal church.

Colonel Roosevelt is to leave early in the morning to conclude his campaign in Maryland.

Three Candidates Visit State.

BALTIMORE, Md., May 3.—The people of Maryland were forcibly reminded today that there will be the next chance to influence the nomination of presidential candidates in the autumnary campaign that has been gathering force since the first of the week is culminating in a burst of oratory. Three of the five candidates whose names will appear on the primary ballot were in the state today.

AN EYE ON FOREIGN AFFAIRS

Representative Wants Effort Made to Learn If Any Governments Trying to Get Western Mexico Grant.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The Magdalena bay incident, which recently received much attention in the senate, today was brought up by the house in a resolution by Representative Barker of California, directing the house foreign affairs committee to learn of any effort by foreign governments to acquire any concessions or grants upon the western shores of Mexico "or in any of the gulfs or bays adjoining the western Mexican coast."

The committee would be directed to learn if any such concessions, if allowed, would encroach upon the Monroe doctrine, and what position the United States should take; the resolution is similar to Senator Rayner's, both are in committee.

SECOND SHIP OF DEATH AND HER OFFICERS.

KANSAS VISITED BY SEVERAL TORNADOES

TOPEKA, Kan., May 3.—According to reports received at the Santa Fe offices here, a tornado passed over Kinsley, Kan., this afternoon, killing three or four Mexican laborers and injuring two others so seriously it is feared they will die.

The men were bunking in box cars and the cars were wrecked by the storm. Telegraph wires were torn down and much damage done about the railroad yards. Reports received here do not give the full extent of the storm.

LARNED, Kan., May 3.—A score of persons were injured, none seriously, and a dozen houses were destroyed by a tornado which passed east of here tonight. The electric plant was closed tonight because of broken wires.

The crew of Santa Fe train No. 5, which arrived here last night, reports that three tornadoes did much damage to the country west of here, but no deaths have been reported. Many farm houses were damaged, as were buildings in small towns.

The storms formed in the southwest, moving northeast.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION BILL BILTERLY OPPOSED

Senator Reed Calls It a Monstrosity and Senator Davis Says It is Work of Railroad Lobbyists

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The senate after three remarkable speeches failed again today to reach a vote on the workmen's compensation bill, and when at 6:20 o'clock it took recess until 11:30 o'clock. A. A. Lawrence there was a general impression that the final vote would not be reached until Monday.

Senator Reed, concluding his speech, characterized the bill as a monstrosity, fraught with iniquity. Senator Ashurst of Arizona, in his first senate speech, freely criticized the federal courts. Senator Jeff Davis of Arkansas, condemned the bill in unmeasured terms, declaring he would resign before voting for it.

Mr. Davis charged the railroad lobbyists with a persistent effort to have the measure railroaded through the senate.

"Stop," he cried, "stop senators, before you do this thing; stop before it is too late; put on the brakes, the emergency brakes, where the red light, give the laboring man a chance to be heard."

Asserting that President W. C. Brown of the New York Central lines, and his claim agent had been sitting in "close to the throne" in the preparation of the bill, he declared the measure was "loaded."

FORMER LEAD, S. D. MAN ACCIDENTALLY KILLS SELF

DENVER, May 3.—T. A. Faulkner, 55 years old, formerly of Lead, S. D., accidentally shot and killed himself here this afternoon while examining a revolver. The weapon had been left in the rooming house at 1453 California street, of which Faulkner was proprietor. Death was instantaneous, the bullet piercing his brain. Faulkner is survived by a son, G. A. Faulkner, who lives in Lead, and a wife and small daughter here.

PANAMA REQUESTS U. S. TO INTERVENE

Leaders Political Parties Desire to Secure Fairly Conducted Election

PANAMA, May 3.—The United States government has been requested to intervene in the presidential election in Panama. In the extent of seeing that it is fairly conducted.

This fact was admitted today by President Arce, in an interview with the Associated Press. He said the directors of the United Patriots, the main given a party composed of friends of President Arce, and Pedro A. Diaz, the official candidate for president, has asked for American intervention, such as was accorded in the election of 1908, when the Secretary of War Taft informed the Panama government that the election must be conducted fairly.

President Arce added that his government would welcome such intervention. The directors of the Liberal and Conservative parties also say they have requested the United States to see that the election is fair.

These requests are taken here to indicate that the political situation in the republic is delicate.

Reports of rioting at Dolega, following an address by Dr. Bellario Porras, another candidate for president, caused a great sensation throughout the country today. The situation is practically beyond control of the political leaders, and passion runs so high that it is feared some slight incident may result in a conflagration.

MURDERERS WILL HANG

CORALLIS, Ore., May 3.—George and Charles Humphreys, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Eliza Griffith near Philomath, were sentenced today by Judge Hamilton to be hanged June 15. The condemned men were taken to Salem.

After Cutting Employes' Salaries Democrats Help Themselves to $216,000

WASHINGTON, May 3.—After cutting the salaries of clerks and minor officials in the various departments of the government, the house today by 458 to 48 voted $216,000 additional funds for itself for individual clerical assistance.

In doing so Democrats refused to listen to the warnings of Representative Johnson of South Carolina, chairman of the legislative executive and judicial appropriation bill, and turned an equally deaf ear to Representative Fitzgerald of the committee. Apocryphal amendment by Representative Bartlett of Georgia (Democrat) making it compulsory to place the names of all clerks or secretaries so employed on a special roll of the house, was adopted, 78 to 20. This, he said, would answer the accusation that members were putting the clerk hire in their pockets.

FROST WARNINGS ISSUED

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Warnings of frost or freezing temperatures have been issued for Nebraska, the north-west generally, the central and southern Rocky mountain region and Utah. Flood warnings have been issued for the Rio Grande in New Mexico.

UNIDENTIFIED DEAD BURIED WITH HONORS

HALIFAX, N. S., May 3.—Fifty-nine bodies of the unidentified Titanic victims were committed to their last resting place in three cemeteries this afternoon.

Four bodies, identified as having been Roman Catholics, were buried with the rites of their church, in Mount Olivet cemetery, and nine Hebrews, in the Hebrew cemetery, with customary ceremonies.

The remaining 46 were interred in a graveyard cemetery. A large plot of ground had been purchased by the White Star representatives, and it is understood that the graves will be marked with suitable monuments.

The scene at the latter cemetery was sad and solemn. One hundred blue-robed monks, with bare heads, formed a square around the graves while the pallbearers, wearing lowered, Protestant Regiments, delivered eulogies and the Royal Canadian Mounted band played the dead march from Saul, and "Nearer My God, to Thee."

Floral offerings, contributed by the White Star company and unknown donors, were placed upon each grave.

COURT SHOWS LENIENCY TO MAN IN HARD LUCK

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.—"I'll have to stretch the law to give you a chance, but I feel inclined to take a long shot this time, believing you will make good. Go and be a good man."

Judge Ralph S. Latham, in the criminal court here today, paroled a man charged with robbery. Fred Wilson, 27 years old, was the name he wished to be known by, declaring that after having been educated in Detroit he had gone to Boston and had become wealthy. Later he said he had lost his wealth when forced out of a western irrigation project by richer men. Penitents, he came to Missouri and failing to find work had attempted to rob a fruit stand.

SPRINGS BOY DROWNED

OKALOOSA, Ia., May 3.—Walter Taber, son of James C. Taber of Colorado Springs, a junior student in Penn college here, was drowned this afternoon in a reservoir near the city. Spencer Mortimer of Laval, Wis., narrowly escaped death in attempting to save Taber.

It was impossible to locate relatives of the young man in Colorado Springs last night. According to the directory a James C. Taber resides at 122 South Weber.

FRANK C. ROUTT DEAD

PUEBLO, May 3.—Frank C. Routt, son of ex-Governor James L. Routt, of Colorado, died tonight here. Mr. Routt was 83 years old, and for a number of years had lived on a ranch in northern Colorado. He is survived by two sisters.

M.E. AMUSEMENT EDICT UBSOLUTE

TWO-THIRDS MEMBERS
GO TO CIRCUS OR DANCE

Solution Rests in Full Conference—Taft, Wilson and Knox Denounced

MINNEAPOLIS, May 3.—Ministers of the Methodist Episcopal church appeared to be equally divided tonight on the question whether the church law prohibiting dancing, card playing, gambling and going to theaters, circuses and horse races should be abolished, as recommended by the board of bishops.

On the ground that their investigations showed that two-thirds of the 3,200,000 members of the church either danced or went to circuses and theaters without regarding it as being sinful, the bishops urged that the church law against these diversions, in force for 40 years, had become obsolete.

They said that while the church would continue to protest against these forms of amusement, it was better not to have any specific law on the subject than to have a law which was ineffective.

The demonstration which greeted Bishop Earl Cranston's reading of the recommendation was taken as indicating a lively debate on the question. A motion declaring that the rule "always had been a source of constant irritation and unrest in the church and asking that it be referred to a committee was promptly voted down, amendment being presented that the full conference was "going to settle that question and no one else."

A Case in Question.

No sooner was the motion made than James Bartholomew, of New Bedford, Mass., had the floor. "I know of a high school boy who is studying English, who went to see 'Macbeth.' It was the duty of the pastor, without option, to expel that boy from the church on the ground that he had violated this supposed law. A jury acting under the rule would have to expel, but a jury acting under Wesley's rule would certainly not expel."

Arguments against continuing the antiquated rule are presented here: "That the majority of churchgoers never have refrained from dancing and theaters because of the church, and the violation of this rule has tended to bring all church discipline into contempt."

"That many people regard Shakespeare on the stage as good as Shakespeare in a book."

"That many people refuse to condemn all plays because of some of them, just as much as they would refuse to condemn all novels because some novels were not proper."

"That gambling is fundamentally wrong and does not need a rule to prohibit it."

Against abolishing the rule, arguments were:

"It would give the impression that the church was tending toward laxity and that the church was endorsing the things which it formerly opposed. It would remove the restrictions which held people from these forms of amusements."

Denounce Government Officials.

In adopting a resolution offered by James W. Anderson of Keokuk, Ia., denouncing Secretary of Agriculture James Wilson for accepting the honorary chairmanship of a brewers' congress in Chicago last October, the conference declared that President Taft, Secretary Wilson and Secretary of State Knox "have forfeited all claim on the future franchise of the conservative and sober manhood of the nation" because they had ignored appeals that no government official attend the congress. Secretary Wilson's explanation that he attended the congress because he was interested in the growth of hops and barley was described as "an insult and frivolous."

The conference today appointed a commission of 20 delegates to consider the demand of some of the negro delegates that they be given a negro bishop to supervise the affairs of 325,000 colored members of the church in southern states.

ARMY ORDERED TO BE READY TO MOVE

Instructions Call For Troops to Expect Duty on Border
on Short Notice

REBELS ASSUME OFFENSIVE

Entire Army Starts South
Across Desert to Meet Federals at Torreon

MONTEREY, Cal., May 3.—The Twelfth regiment United States infantry quartered here, received orders from Washington tonight to be prepared to embark at a moment's notice. Company G of the Twelfth is sleeping in shelter tents by the railroad and will entrain early tomorrow for Yuma, Ariz.

Officers of the regiment took their orders literally and gave a farewell banquet. Yuma is in the southwestern corner of Arizona, close to the Mexican border. "Embark" was interpreted to mean possible duty on the west coast of Mexico for which the relief ship Buford sailed last Sunday, or in Lower California which was particularly turbulent a year ago.

LAWTON, OKLA., MAY 3.—Col. Gran- ger B. Adams, commanding officer of Fort Sill, received instructions from the war department tonight to have all troops ready to move to the Texas border on short notice. There is great activity at the fort tonight and prepara- tions are being made to get the troops ready for immediate travel and field service. About 1,000 men are stationed at Fort Sill. Orders also were given Colonel Adams to renew efforts to se- cure enlistments.

It is understood here that similar instructions were issued to officer commanding other forts.

Dead American Butchered.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Driven from Mexico by fear of an anti-American uprising, Mrs. M. L. Ryan of Greensboro, Pa., wife of the vice president of the Tehuantepec railroad; Mrs. E. Byers, also of Greensboro, N. Y., and six of Mrs. Ryan's children, arrived here today aboard the steamship Kentuckian, from Puerto, Mexico.

Other Americans, according to the refugees, are preparing to send their wives and children home because of the threatening actions of the guerrillas. Mrs. Ryan says that one American was killed shortly before she sailed, his heart cut out and sent to Puerto, Mexico.

Madero Won't Treat With Orozco.

MEXICO CITY, May 3.—Whether a federal general commission will treat with General Orozco, the rebel leader, depends upon whether President Madero will sanction the idea of the government appointing negotiators with the head of the revolution in the north.

The chamber of deputies yesterday conceived the idea that it would work for the welfare of the country to sound Orozco on peace terms, and a motion was made in the chamber that a delegation be named and instructed to treat with Orozco. The motion was lost, the argument that such an arrangement is not legal prevailing. It was then agreed to name a committee to approach President Madero and cooperate with him in formulating a plan that might reach his peace. Madero, however, within 48 hours has said not to treat with Orozco, and unless some argument is brought before more forceful than any yet presented, it is believed he will refuse to sanction the peace move.

CHICAGO ON STRIKE

CHICAGO, May 3.—After a day of turmoil, marked by several assaults and a few arrests, resulting from attempts to distribute Chicago newspapers printed by nonunion pressmen, publishers tonight were confronted with fresh trouble when the stereotypers walked out of all the offices.

The movement was made by the workmen in violation of a specific order from James C. Freed, international president of the stereotypers union for the men to remain at work.

Prior to the open break between the publishers and the pressmen it was rumored that the stereotypers, whose agreement expired at the same time as that of the pressmen, may, would cease work in sympathy with the latter.

A new agreement was signed, however, and during the two days that the pressmen have been absent from the offices the stereotypers remained at work. Agitation in their ranks for a walkout following so closely the signing of the new agreement came as a surprise to the publishers.

Afternoon papers published only one edition today and morning papers prepared to issue only one. It was impossible to obtain copies of any of the newspapers involved in the difficulties from the street news stands today.

WILL AVOID MEXICAN PORTS

Gunboat Yorktown, Receives Orders
Not to Stop for Coal and Will Come
Directly to United States

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The torpedo boat destroyers Preble and Barron, which were sent from San Diego to intercept the gunboat Yorktown with orders to avoid touching at any Mexican port for coal on her way northward from Central America, got that vessel today by wireless and the Yorktown will come directly to San Diego. It is said at the navy department that the instruction was not at the instance of the Mexican government but was a voluntary precaution of this government against existing anti-American feelings in Mexico through a misunderstanding of the Yorktown's purpose.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 3.—Just as George Scaphos, a Greek, was preparing to send the savings of two years' hard labor to his wife and two children in Greece that they might come to him, a young American today entered his room, took his money and killed him when he offered resistance.

KIRKPATRICK, AT BURNS THEATER.
MAY 10, IS TO SAVE THE BABIES.

ARMY ORDERED

Gen. Pascual Orozco, the rebel commander-in-chief, set his army in motion across the desert today.

That the government leader intends to make his final stand at Terreon, was seemingly confirmed by the withdrawal of his advance guard from Arizoles upon the appearance of Col. Caesar Canales, with the vanguard of the rebel cavalry. There was no fighting, and the rebel leaders jubilantly telegraphed news of their first triumph.

Not only have the federal troops been withdrawn from Conchos, but it is reported that the small garrisons scattered along the railroad south of there are being called in. It is possible that some resistance may be offered at Mapimi, but the rebel leaders are convinced that the main engagement will be fought at the gates of Terreon. If announced plans are followed, however, the city will not be assaulted, but will be besieged. Orozco believes that he has men enough to guard every passage in and out of the federal base.

Tonight, the main body of the liberal army is encamped near Conchos, which is about midway between Escalon and Terreon. By Monday, at the latest, it is believed that the rebels will be within firing distance of their main objective.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF LYNN MAN TO BE TAKEN EAST

STOCKTON, Cal., May 3.—William A. Dorr charged with the murder of George E. Marsh the Lynn slayer, slay manufacturer who was shot five times in a country road following an automobile ride will not leave Stockton for the east until Sunday and perhaps the departure may be delayed until Monday according to Inspector of Police Stacey R. Burkes and William H. Kane who are here to return with him. When told today that he was to be taken east Dorr's only remark was: "I guess I ought to have a shave and a hair cut."

HELD FOR SHOWMAN MURDER

TOPEKA, Kan., May 3.—A man believed to be Charles Marzyck, a Bohemian, charged with the murder of the entire Showman family, father, mother and three children, at Ellsworth Kan., last October is under arrest at Kamloops, province of British Columbia, Canada.

Steps have been taken to secure extradition. He is now said to be using the name of Charles Mason as an alias. The application for the requisition formally charges Marzyck with the murders of William Showman, Mrs. Pauline Showman and the three Showman children, Leslie Fern and Fenton Marzyck once married a sister of Mrs. Showman. Later he was convicted of wheat stealing and sent to prison. Mrs. Marzyck, he is said to have alleged deserted him during his trouble.

SUMMIT OF CRITICISM

WASHINGTON, May 3.—After listening to caustic criticism of the "money trust" inquiry, the house today adopted a resolution appropriating $25,000 for the judiciary committee to prosecute its part of the investigation. Minority Leader Mann and Representative Hill of Connecticut (Republican), denounced the manner in which funds were voted.

DECLARE JUSTICES OF PEACE OUT OF OFFICE

DENVER, May 3.—Judge Whitford is asked to hold that the position of justice of the peace is not a lawful office in an application for injunction which has been filed. Justice of the Peace Gavin wanted a judgment against the Sulphur Springs Bottling company and that company now maintains that there is no such office in the city and has asked the district court to hold the judgment null and void and to restrain the constable from enforcing it. The petition asserts that under the present city charter there is no such public office and that a decision of the supreme court in the charter case has wiped out the positions held by C. J. Gavin, Ellis B. Thrush and E. R. Morris. Judge Whitford has the case under advisement.

MOTION PICTURE OF CRANK AT WHITE HOUSE FOILED

WASHINGTON, May 3.—A motion picture plot, to show a "crank" attempting to reach President Taft was nipped in the bud at the White house today. A squad of picture men set up their apparatus in front of the main entrance of the White house and a white bearded actor started up the steps. The actor would have been turned back at the door and the picture machine would have taken in the interesting proceeding following his attempts to get into the White house, but policemen interfered and though the picture men pleaded that the play be allowed the officers refused.

REPORTS HOMESTEAD BILL

DENVER, May 3.—The bill introduced by Senator Guggenheim, which provided that residence on and cultivation of an original homestead entry where final proof has not been made shall apply to an additional entry under the enlarged homestead act today as reported favorably to the senate. The bill also provides that it shall not be so construed as to require residence upon both original and additional entries in excess of five years, provided that if such additional entry be non-contiguous it shall be within six miles of the original entry.

CRIME TO TALK ABOUT

ST. PAUL, May 3.—If we thought half as much of our babies as the breeders of thoroughbred puppies do of their animals, we would not tolerate the shaking, fondling and coddling with which we seek to quiet and amuse them," said Mrs. L. S. B. Robinson of the Baby Welfare association at a meeting of the Bethel Women's club.

"No man who has high grade puppies will allow anyone to handle or fuss with them. The father who tosses his baby up to the ceiling and makes him laugh until he gets fairly hysterical is responsible for much of the chronic nervousness which develops as the child grows up."

"It is a crime to bounce and toss a baby until the food in its stomach is so shaken up it cannot be digested. The tendency to shake our babies is due to American nervousness. That babies cry and we do not know what to do for them. It is far better to put them on the bed and let them cry. If they are comfortable and are not hungry it will do them no harm whatever, and it will be better for them. Babies are very easily trained."

"It is often a sacrilegious statement to say when a baby dies that 'God took it.' It died through the fault of the mother, who will not do what she should for the baby. More babies are killed by kindness than anything else. The mother does everything the neighbors, friends and relatives tell her. America has the highest infant mortality rate of all the better governed countries. One baby in every five dies before it reaches the age of one year. Food is the most important thing to the young baby, and it should not be fed too much or too often. We need a city ice company which would furnish the poor families with a few cents' worth of ice each day, for ice is an absolute necessity. Milk which has been exposed to the warm air becomes poisonous."

"Then flies are the cause of much sickness to babies and to adults. If the fly does not fall into the milk and is in sight, it can be fished out. It crawls along the edge of the pitcher, and then the milk is poured out over the germs it leaves. If we cannot afford screens we can at least afford netting, and this will keep out the flies. Better go without a new hat and let the children go without new clothes and get some screens."

"Don't wait for your babies to get sick before you seek advice. Weigh them once a week, and if they lose weight you may know that something is wrong. The baby welfare clinics are held for the purpose of giving mothers advice and furnishing them with formulas for proper food."

An international gas and gas appliance exhibition will be held at Amsterdam in September and October.

thousands of dollars worth of rations, but more funds will be needed than are in sight.
It is estimated that the flooded territory in this state and in Mississippi where approximately 125,000 persons are homeless, will be covered by the waters for two months.

The question of medical attention and the still larger one of sanitation in the refugee camps is being handled by the state board of health, army experts and Red Cross nurses. No one can foretell the final extent of the disaster.

Force Negroes to Work.
NEW ORLEANS, May 3. So urgent has been the demand for laborers for levee work that today the police ordered every idle negro rounded up and forcibly put to work helping to keep back the steadily advancing waters of the Mississippi. At the head of Canal street the water is within a few inches of entering the ferry boat houses and harbor precinct police station. The Southern Pacific transfer station is covered with two feet of water, as is the extensive banana wharf.

Four hundred laborers tonight are working on the Chalmette levee at the lower end of the city. They were put to work this morning and tonight electric light wires were strung so the light could be kept up. Twenty-five miles above New Orleans a levee is sloughing and a force of workmen was sent there this morning.

The gauge here tonight registered 21.3, a rise of three-tenths of a foot in the last 24 hours. This is almost a foot above the previous flood record.

MELVILLE, Ia., May 3.—Acting hastily upon the warning of Capt. J. A. Logan of the United States army flood relief corps, people this afternoon were moved out of Melville, which is threatened with inundation.

The Texas and Pacific railroad carried two trainloads, mostly women and children, and a special train was rushed back here tonight to take out the men who remained behind to continue the almost hopeless fight against the flood. It was believed all escaped.

MEXICO DEPORTS RUSSIANS
MEXICO CITY, May 3.—A sensation was caused here today by the deportation from Mexico of A. Z. and Joseph Rattner, Russian subjects, president and manager respectively of the Mexican News company, and dealers in general merchandise by application of the famous article 33, providing for the banishment of "pernicious foreigners."

The Rattners were accused of trafficking in arms with Zapatistas, who were said to have been captured in some instances with arms and ammunition bearing the marks of the Tampico company.

The Rattners were taken without court process. It is said, and their families and associates were ignorant for 24 hours of their whereabouts. Both men were called to police headquarters under the pretext of a business transaction and as soon as they arrived were arrested.

Task No. 14 prisoners were placed with the utmost secrecy on board the German steamer Corvado which had arrived at Vera Cruz from Hamburg and the news of the deportations leaked out only when the men were on the high seas.

A. Z. Rattner, whose wife is an American, lived for some time in New York.

CHOOSE STRONGEST MAN
BALTIMORE, May 3.—In a speech at Belair, Md., Gov. Harmon declared that the government could only be conducted by parties.

"The question for the Democratic party to decide in this nomination is whose nomination will offer the greatest chances of success and who will rally about him the greatest number this fall?"

and a fourth will enter it tomorrow. The names of Theodore Roosevelt and President Taft will appear on the Republican preference ballot, and the names of Champ Clark, Judson Harmon and Woodrow Wilson on the Democratic ballot, in the order given.

Tonight, supporters of Champ Clark held a big mass meeting here, at which Mayor Preston presided and ex-United States Senator Charles A. Towne, ex-Congressman Lafe Pence of New York and Congressman Henry George, Jr., were the chief speakers. Colonel Roosevelt toured the eastern part of the state today and will make a number of speeches in the country districts tomorrow.

Governor Woodrow Wilson was the only Democratic candidate of those on the primary ballot who was not in the state today. The New Jersey governor made his appeal here last Monday.

Governor Harmon made several speeches in the northern part of the state and returned to Baltimore this evening, but only to take a train at 11 p. m. for Ohio.

"I don't want to butt in on another man's show," he remarked just before leaving.

Speaker Clark made no speeches of the state, although he visited friends in Montgomery county, which adjoins the District of Columbia.

Tomorrow, President Taft will enter the state right after breakfast and wind up a day of arduous campaigning here with a speech from the stage where Colonel Roosevelt appeared tonight.

PUTTING IN NEW TRACKS AT PIKES PEAK AVENUE AND TEJON STREET

The paving work is well under way, and the apparent chaos that rules in the paving district can be seen to be the result of a thoroughly thought-out plan that is rapidly pushing the work to completion. The five-inch base is being laid in double-quick time, 1,500 yards being put in yesterday, notwithstanding only seven and one-half hours of work were possible.

The street car company is keeping its cars running close to the schedule announced Monday, although some of the crews have to make an extra long trip to get to and from the car barns. Everybody is putting up with the inconvenience arising from the fore-up streets and the disarranged car schedules most cheerfully, for all know that the present discomfort means big things for the future, "a bigger and better Colorado Springs."

MR. AND MRS. E. W. FROST CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Frost of this city yesterday celebrated their forty-fifth wedding anniversary. Mr. Frost is commissioner of public health and sanitation and has held many public offices during his residence here. Mr. and Mrs. Frost were married on horseback on the open prairie, 15 miles from the nearest house in what is now

Larimer county, Colorado. The couple had decided to get married and as the nearest preacher lived 45 miles away they, together with one witness, started to his home on horseback. They met him on the way and were married.

Sunday Concert at Stratton Pavilion

The following varied program has been arranged by Director William Fluk, for the orchestra concert at Stratton park pavilion tomorrow afternoon, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

PART I
Grand march, "Aida"..... Verdi
Overture, "Le Cheval de Bronze"..... (The Bronze Horse)
Concert Alcantara, "Bella"..... Wabbeuf
Selection, "The Girl and the Kaiser"..... Jarno
PART II
Russian Suite..... Tschakoff
(a) "Cossack Revels"..... Dancé Gros-lesque
(b) "Valse Russe"
Serenade solo, "O Dry Those Tears"
Miss Mafy L. Sweeney
(Violin obligato by Mr. Fluk)
"Panamerican"..... Moreau Chara-lierique
Scenes from "Lohengrin"..... Wagner

"This piece was composed by Mr. Herbert for the engagement of the Pittsburg orchestra, at the Panamerican exposition in Buffalo, and is a musical illustration of the same idea that inspired that project. The Panamerican idea appears in the work in the "Indian" character in the first, the "Down South" character of the second, and the "South American" (Spanish) character of the third part.

Cartoons of Some Characters With Louise Gunning in "The Balkan Princess"

"The Balkan Princess," which appears at the Opera house this evening, probably has more unique principal characters than any musical comedy or light opera that has trod the boards of American theaters in many seasons past.

Photographers and cartoonists, scored nothing short of sensations. OF CITY WATER BONDS

The city council is in a position to refund $129,000 worth of water bonds, according to Mayor Avery, who has two propositions on the subject to present to the council this evening, when an informal conference will be held. For three years the mayor has declined to refund any of these bonds, although the charter specified an immediate refunding. He has held out the state of the bond market compelled the city to pocket a great financial loss should the bonds be refunded, inasmuch as other cities are issuing 4 1/2 per cent bonds and the charter limits the city to 4 per cent. In view of the fact that $473,000 worth of the bonds will have to be taken care of in May, the mayor has pointed out, calls for action. Although the city may have to sell the bonds at a slight loss, in the opinion of the city's advisers this would be preferable to carrying them longer.

BISHOP SPAULDING WILL TALK ON "UTAH PROBLEM"

The Rt. Rev. F. S. Spaulding of Salt Lake City, the Episcopal bishop of Utah, will speak at 8 o'clock, on "The Utah Problem." Bishop Spaulding will also speak at St. Stephen's church at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning, and at the vesper services at Colorado college tomorrow afternoon at 5 o'clock. Bishop Spaulding is the son of the Rt. Rev. J. F. Spaulding, for many years the Episcopal bishop of Colorado, and is well known in many towns in the state, having commenced his ministry here. He is among the leading churchmen of the day, and is an authority on Christian social questions, having spent much time in the study of them. He is especially aggressive along this line of church work, and is regarded as one of the ablest of the younger bishops of the Episcopal church.

He graduated from Princeton, and later attended the General Theological school in New York city. After finishing there, he spent some time in Colorado, and then returned east, where he was rector of a large parish in Erie, Pa. He was made bishop of Utah in 1904, and has held that position since.

His talk at Grace church tomorrow night will be especially interesting, and the general public is invited to hear him.

It would surprise you to know of the great good that is being done by Chamberlain's Tablets. Darius Downey, of Newburg Junction, N. B., writes, "My wife has been using Chamberlain's Tablets and finds them very effective and doing her lots of good. If you have any trouble with your stomach or bowels give them a trial. For sale by all dealers."

KIRMESS, AT BURNS THEATER, MAY 10, IS TO SAVE THE BABIES.

"HIGH PRESSURE" SCARE IS PAST; VALVES TESTED

The "high pressure" bugaboo has been laid at rest, and no more will householders be kept awake for fear that Water Superintendent McReynolds might decide to turn on a great pressure of water and blow out most of the acetylene pipes connections in the city.

For the superintendent acting under the advice of Hiram Phillips, the hydraulic expert has already tested the "high pressure" and only two or three small breaks were reported. In fact, no one knew that the test was being made except employees of the department. Mr. Phillips said the department's recommendation of reducing valves was made for those houses where the plumbing was old or in bad shape, where such valves might save considerable expense.

"Of course, we haven't any 175 pounds, or even 125 pounds on any main except the big ones," said Mr. Phillips. "The average pressure is 75 pounds. If everybody would stop using water at once, the pressure would jump up, but the water would be forced out into Mesa reservoir, which is the governing body for the main part of the city. If the city should throw the full pressure into any particular district to fight a big fire, it would not mean that the mains would be under the strain of 125 or 175 pounds, as the drain through the fire hose and for domestic purposes would reduce the pressure to about 90 pounds. This pressure, with plenty of water to draw from, is sufficient to fight almost any fire."

The control valves on the new 16-inch main on the east side of the city, in fine shape, such better than was expected, declare officers of the department.

CONTRACT AWARDED FOR ORNAMENTAL LIGHT POLES

The Progressive Stone and Furnace company of Colorado City has secured the contract for 15 artistic metal poles for the new street lighting system on Pikes Peak avenue between Tejon and Cascade. The cost of the poles is $80 each, and the company guarantees delivery whenever they are asked for.

This contract shows that the local company can compete with the eastern concerns on an equal basis, and in fact make lower rates than the larger companies can quote. The metal poles will be supplied by an eastern firm which specializes on this kind of work.

That the lighting will be carried out as planned is practically assured. Two entire blocks on Tejon street already have been signed up—that between Pikes Peak and Huerta and between Platte and Boulder, while in the other blocks in the paving district the only delay encountered is in securing the signatures of nonresident property owners, who have been written to in regard to the matter.

News of Local Courts

John McCune was arrested by the police yesterday on a charge of intoxication.

A warrant was issued in Justice Gowdy's court yesterday for Frank E. Spanton, charged with beating a board bill. Spanton is said to have left town.

The charge against James B. Simpson, who was held in the county jail accused of a statutory offense, was nolle by the district attorney's office yesterday.

M. Swinburn who arrested himself on a charge of drunkenness Thursday night was sentenced to 30 days by Judge Starrett yesterday and put to work on the city hall lawn.

The police do not give much credence to the story told by Mabel Grady of being robbed of a bracelet by a holdup on West Cucharas street Thursday night. Several points in the girl's story, the police say, do not seem to agree with the facts as discovered by them.

The case of Helen Mason and Charles and Clarence Goad against Mrs. Ella Hall, their aunt, involving the insurance money due from the Modern Woodmen of America on trial in the district court may be concluded today although subpoenas for many new witnesses were issued last night.

Mary Charline Burt filed and secured a divorce from Alexander C. Burt within the space of 10 minutes. The district court last evening. She alleged mental cruelty and was given permission to resume her maiden name Mary Charline Sherman. The couple were married in Colorado City August 30, 1911. The decree was signed by Judge Morris.

Frank B. Neilson has filed suit in Mesa county for divorce from his wife Dorothy Neilson of this city, charging cruelty and unwillingness to leave Colorado Springs for residence in Mesa county. The couple were married November 29, 1909, when Mrs. Neilson was 18 years old. Yesterday Mrs. Neilson received a letter from her husband asking that she again live with him. They have one son born May 6, 1911.

WHAT IS SOCIALISM?

IN DECEMBER, 1910, the American Economic Association held a session in which it made an attempt to define socialism. The leader of the discussion, John Martin, of the New York Board of Education, began his remarks as follows: "Definitions of socialism are almost as numerous as the combatants for and against socialism. Unbelievers claim the same right as believers to define the term; as Mark Twain said people should spell according to the dictates of their own consciences. The results are confusion and misunderstanding; muddy thinking and a woeful working at cross purposes in matters of national importance. So bewildering is the babel of voices that some people deny that socialism can be defined at all." For instance, Professor Gray of the University of Minnesota, holds that "the term has no fixed or well-defined meaning," and Professor Dewey of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology stated that "socialism represents a movement. I do not see that it admits of sharper definition than Christianity, or barbarism, or culture."

However, it is possible to get useful, working definitions of socialism, as the discussion at the meeting of the American Economic Association demonstrated. In defining any term it is necessary first, to assign that term to a class or genus; second, to tell in what way the ideas embraced by the term in question differ from the ideas embraced in other terms belonging to the same genus. So, in defining socialism it is necessary to specify whether socialism is considered (1) as a program of measures relating to social questions, (2) as an end to be attained, or (3) as a way of looking at things, a philosophy. After having specified the genus it is necessary to differentiate socialism from other members of the genus to which socialism has been assigned. "Socialism" will be defined in all three ways: as a program, as an end, and as a philosophy.

Socialism as a program: "Socialism proposes the abolition of private property in the great material instruments of production, and the substitution therefore of collective property; and advocates the collective management of production, together with the distribution of social income by society, and private property in the larger proportion of this social income." (Richard T. Ely in Socialism and Social Reform). There is a common, but mistaken idea, that the program of socialism is identical with the program of communism. Thus, in a speech delivered at the Ohio Northern University President Taft showed that he had this erroneous conception of the socialist's program. He said: "Speaking generally of the issues which are likely to be presented to you students in the future, I think the issue of most importance will be the question of the preservation of our institution of private property, or its destruction, and the substitution of a certain kind of cooperative enjoyment of everything, which is the ideal of socialism." This is the ideal of communism, not socialism.

THE MEANS AND END OF SOCIALISM

Socialism as an end: The program of socialism is a means to an end, not an end in itself. Consequently, some writers have held that any definition of socialism should be with respect to the end which socialists desire to attain by means of their program. Thus, Professor F. W. Taussig says: "Collective ownership and management are but the means. The end of socialism, and the essential thing for it, is a change in distribution. I take it that under any socialistic organization all funded incomes would disappear; no leisure class would exist; all the able-bodied would labor, and the only remuneration would be for labor—that is, would be wages. Wages would be adjusted on some basis thought equitable; perhaps on a basis of need, or one of sacrifice, or one of efficiency, or some combination of these; but at all events one deliberately selected as just, and surely with very much less of inequality than in existing society." This point of view is decidedly useful.

The definition of socialism given in the last edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica is that of an end to be attained. The definition follows: "Socialism is that policy of theory which aims at securing by the action of the central democratic authority a better distribution, and in due subordination thereunto a better production, of wealth than now prevails."

Socialism as a philosophy: Socialism may be defined as a way of looking at things, as the opposite to individualism. Individualism is that philosophy which relies upon the universal motive of self-interest for the attainment of the highest well-being of man in society. Men at the two extremes of society are usually strong individualists—the eminently successful, at the top, and the eminently unsuccessful at the bottom. The first ascribe their success to their individual efforts; the second ascribe their failure to the interference of society. Socialism, on the other hand, is that philosophy which relies upon social action in curbing and limiting the selfish actions of individuals as the best means for the attainment of the greatest good of the greatest number.

The three definitions of socialism are all helpful. Taken together they indicate the point of view of a socialist, the end that socialists desire to attain, and the means by which they seek to attain that end. Such is socialism.

ILLITERACY IN UNITED STATES

ACCORDING to a recent census bulletin the percentage of illiteracy in the United States is 7.7. There are five and one-half million people over ten years of age who cannot read or write, and of these about 40 per cent are negroes. The number of native-born white illiterates is 1,535,530.

That illiteracy is gradually being wiped out is shown by a comparison with figures for the year 1900, when the percentage was 10.7, or 3 per cent more than in 1910. Comparisons with the illiteracy statistics of other nations are somewhat inaccurate because of the different methods used in determining the percentages, but on the whole the United States shows up very favorably. In this country all persons over the age of ten years who cannot read or write are classed as illiterates. In Austria, using the same basis, 26.2 per cent of the population are illiterate, in Russia 70 per cent, in Spain 58.7 per cent, in Belgium 18.6 per cent, while in Portugal the illiterates reach the astonishing total of 73.4 per cent of the population over the age of ten. When we remember that 40 per cent of the illiterates in this country are negroes the comparison is all the more favorable to the United States.

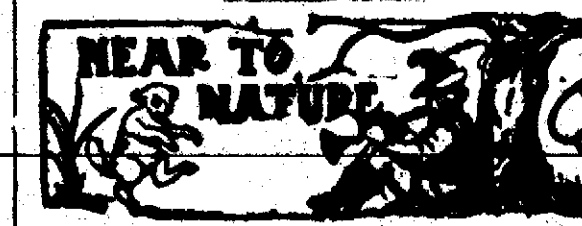

But less comfort is to be found in comparisons with Germany, France, and the United Kingdom, where the percentages of illiteracy are respectively .02, 3.2 and 3.7. This is not due to any superiority of the educational systems of those countries over ours or to a higher popular intelligence. The relatively high percentage of illiteracy in the United States is a natural effect of the presence of a large negro population and of the enormous foreign immigration. For instance, 44.8 per cent of our negro population over ten years of age can neither read nor write, while 12.9 per cent of our foreign-born white population are likewise illiterate. But there is comfort in the reflection that these percentages are steadily being reduced.

 The hundreds of men, women and children suddenly wiped out of existence by the overflowing Mississippi and the spring tornadoes are receiving scant attention in comparison with the Titanic victims, but they are killed just as dead. The difference is that not so many were killed in one spot.

NOT THE MAN.
 From the New York Morning Telegraph.
 If anything were needed to prove to the American people to show them conclusively—that Taft is not the man for the White house it is his action of traveling around the country, delivering demagogic harangues, denouncing Roosevelt and giving out interviews in which he allows himself to be quoted as not only violating an established precedent—which is that the president under no circumstances can be interviewed—but he belittles his great office; he brings the tenant of the White house down to the level of an anxious, ambition-bitten demagogue talking for votes. If Taft had the dignity of a Grant or a Cleveland, a McKinley or a Harrison, he would administer his office from the seat of government and not waste his time and exhaust the patience of the sovereign people by stumping around the country seeking support after the fashion of a nominee for some small county office.

Centershots

By ED HOWE.

Is every man a tremendous egotist, and perfectly honest in thinking himself better than others?

There is little enthusiasm that will not cool in the presence of real danger.

The man who should listen and learn, usually does most of the talking.

A woman might as well propose; her husband always claims she did.

Farmers probably dislike town people most because they do not eat more radishes, which are easier raised than any other thing grown on a farm.

Patent medicine advertisements are attractive reading for women, because they have a great deal to say about women who suffer in silence.

When you call on a woman, look at her; don't let your eyes roam around the room as though looking for dirt. This is one thing that always makes a hostess mad.

After a man reaches 70, and recovers from an illness, people wonder why he didn't have it over with, while he was about 60.

If there were no schools to take the children away from home part of the time, the insane asylums would be filled with mothers.

When a girl's pocketbook looks bulky, she has her handkerchief in it; a girl never has any money.

However well you "know people," something is always coming up that shocks you.

No doubt you believe in fairness, and common sense, and law, and arbitration. But you are very quiet about it; whereas the Noisy Boys, in advocating their principles, can be heard a mile when they talk.

People think they are charitable enough, if they say they don't believe more than half the mean stories told on a man.

In the Garden

By WALT MASON.

I tilled like a Turk last summer, with shovel and hoe and rake. "My garden will be a hummer," I murmured, "and no mistake." A roundelay blithely yellic, I labored, in sweat and wash, and planted the stately melon, and also the queenly squash; and, quoting the words of Bunyan, and quotations from Pope and Gray, I planted the fragrant onion, and succulent tale of hay. And all through the sizzling season out there in my verdant I wrought, and often my feet were fresh, and otherwise I was hot. When other folks went a-fishing, or hiked to the three-river show, I tilled in my garden wishing that I with the rest could go; but he who is bent on raising abundance of garden sass, who hopes for a crop amazing of spinach and asparagus, must cut out all vain excursions, steer clear of the giddy boys; for him there are no diversions, no fishing or other joys. And this is a man's reward in the day when the toll is done: a big pile of weeds in the garden, and a shortage of wholesome fun.

"Turn About Is Fair Play"

By RUTH CAMERON.

"In short, if youth is not quite right in its opinions there is a strong probability that age is not much more so," Stevenson.

We are often reminded of the preference which young people owe to their elders; we seldom hear anything about the courtesy which old people should show to their youngsters; and yet I think that such an obligation certainly exists, and that older people often make the mistake of ignoring it.

It is both irritating and amusing to hear a certain elderly lady flatly contradict her niece on subjects which the latter has been studying for the last ten years. Doubtless there are many things about which the older women do know best, but in regard to this matter she has absolutely no claim to superiority.

Knowledge except "I've lived a good deal longer than you have, my dear." Consequently she smokes herself both obnoxious and ridiculous by her assumptions of superiority. Wisdom in youth deserves respect just as much as wisdom in old age; and whoever fails to give it falls in propriety, even if he is a hundred years old.

Again, young folks have a right to their privacy. An impertinent question does not cease to be impertinent when it is asked by an older person. A young woman tells me that an elderly cousin considers that her 80 years give her the right to say anything she wishes, and that she often asks such questions as, "How much board do you pay your father?" "How much did your sister's wedding cost?" A good many of us know people like this who presume on their years to be rude and inquisitive, and needless to say, we do not love them for it.

One more suggestion for the older folks. A short time ago I urged the young people to call on their lonely old friends more often. A letter-friend writes, "I wish you would also tell these lonely old people that the young folks will be more anxious to visit them if they meet their visitors with some greeting like, 'I am glad to see you.' Young folks have so many interests that it is very good of you to spare time for us lonely old people.' Instead of with some acid remark like, 'You have not been to see me for a long time.' Well, you will be old yourself sometime and then you'll know what it is to be lonely."

FIRST AID TO INJURED HEARTS

ARE BETROTHALS BINDING?

(Copyright, 1912, by Laura Jean Libbey.)

The last thought which enters a young woman's mind after she has said the words, "Will you be my wife?" have been uttered and she has answered "Yes" is that there could be a possibility of a slip in her happy expectations.

It would be the most wonderful achievement that could be made really to understand how solemn a thing is an engagement to marry. The guardians of the girl give their consent with the secret thought in their hearts, "Well, betrothals are not binding and if they find out that they are not suited to each other, why, they can easily break the engagement." This is easily said, but whether it will work out satisfactorily is quite another matter.

When a young girl's heart goes out to a lover the freshness and sweetness of that affection can never be recalled. The suitability of the one for the other should be looked into before the betrothal is sanctioned. There should be a tender sympathy between those whom heaven intended for each other—a blending of opposite natures, an intuition that out of all the world of men and women the two who have met recognize in each other the ones who could make the happiness of this world complete. Unless this feeling exists there should be no marriage engagement.

A girl may break her troth for one reason or the other, which seems a good reason to her. She may not go through life single because of it. Another betrothal may follow, but it is apt to lack the warmth, the earnestness and the enthusiasm of the first offering. It never seems a difficult matter to part with a lover after having given up the first one. More often than not many of those who break a betrothal regret it in after years.

Real love is never upon faith. Betrothals should be based on the outcome of choice, which is generally unselfish, extravagant and unreasonable, not looking beyond the delights of the present.

It is sad enough to sever the troth for grave reasons. Even at such crisis, unless the fault is incurable, it should not be just cause for the abandonment of a hope which has been so dear to both. Betrothals are sacred. It is the flower strewn path which leads to marriage. Those whose hands have clasped in betrothal vows should use every endeavor to let no obstacle arise to cause them to drift asunder. Loving hearts and true are not easy to find. Those who enter into the betrothal without consideration as to the importance of the step commit a grave folly. Betrothals should be binding.

ANSWERS

SHALL HE BREAK ENGAGEMENT?
 "Dear Miss Libbey: I am 24, and live on a homestead. About six months ago I met a young girl and fell in love with her. We started going together and it was not long before I proposed and was accepted. We have been in each other's company a great deal, and I have found that she is not just the kind of a girl that a man would want for a wife. My mother and sisters so strongly object that I cannot bring her home. I know I did wrong to propose on such short acquaintance, but there are many honorable ways I can break the engagement, or I must marry the girl against my people's wishes."

MONTANA.
 You better write to the girl and tell her what you have heard, asking if there is any truth in the rumors. Broken engagements are unpleasant affairs, but they are not nearly so unpleasant as an unfortunate marriage.

HIS MOTHER IS JEALOUS.
 "Dear Miss Libbey: I am 21, and have kept company with a young man the same age for nearly a year. He comes to see me about four times a week. His mother and sister object, and they have told him he must leave me. He says he loves me and cannot live without me. I told him if it made his mother feel so uncomfortable, he should not bother with me, although I love him dearly. He wants me to marry him and pay no attention to his mother."

"I am a sensible girl, and although I do love him dearly, I hate to have him leave his mother, whom he also loves. But he says she does not give me a square deal. I have known her since I was a little girl, and she always treated me well until she found out her son's love for me. Shall I marry the man I love or leave the city with a broken heart for his mother's sake?"

G. A. M.
 You are not marrying the whole family. Still it would be more pleasant to marry into a family where you are not met by so much opposition. Some mothers are foolish in regard to their sons' wives. If you love the fellow, pay no attention to his mother's feelings in regard to the matter if you are sure there is no reason why she opposes the marriage except that she is jealous.

Graduates Well Equipped.
 High schools are maintained in the three principal cities, and their graduates pass the entrance examinations to American colleges and universities without difficulty. Each high school has a well equipped commercial department, and those who take the commercial course find their services in high demand after graduation.

A very important feature of the school system of Porto Rico—the continuation school—is now only two years old. This school provides practical instruction for those children who finish the graded schools and who do not desire to take the high school course. The continuation school provides for a two-year course in manual training, domestic science, and sewing, thus fitting the boys and girls for the practical things of life. The course also includes work in English and Spanish composition, rhetoric and literature, mathematics and book-keeping. These advanced work in agriculture is fully up to the best American standards.

CARIBBEAN POLITICS

IV—EDUCATION IN PORTO RICO

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

SAN JUAN, Porto Rico, April 18.—Nowhere else in the entire tropical world is so much attention being paid to the education of the people as in Porto Rico. When it is considered that in 1899 only 15 per cent of the people of the island above the age of 10 could read and write, and that 145,000 children were enrolled in the schools in 1911, with an average daily attendance of 103,000 during a school year, it is not surprising to find that the changes that have been wrought will appear. When it is further stated that a system of schools has been established which conforms to the best standards of Europe and America, and in which cooking, sewing, agriculture and manual training are being made features, one will begin to understand why it is that educators from everywhere are making trips to Porto Rico to study its newly established educational system.

At the beginning of the American occupation the average daily attendance in the schools was 18,000. It has increased six-fold since then. Nearly everyone of the 145,000 children in the public schools are receiving the basic principles of agricultural instruction in the shape of nature study. More than 4,000 pupils are receiving actual agricultural instruction of a practical kind.

School Houses Pleasing Feature.
 Porto Rico now has a schoolhouse for every 34 square miles of territory in the island, as compared with one for every 31.1 square miles in the United States. While in the rural districts much progress has been made in the erection of modern country school houses, many are still in use which have thatched roofs and primitive furniture. In a day's travel in a fast automobile one scarcely ever sees a rural school house whose grounds have not been beautified with gardens and attractive trees and shrubbery.

In fact, the school house with its American flag and its beautifully kept grounds, is usually the most pleasing feature of any landscape. A healthy rivalry is maintained among the schools of the island by the annual award of a diploma to the school having the best kept grounds in each of the 40 school districts.

Graded schools are maintained in each of the 68 towns of the island. The buildings are nearly all constructed of cement, along the lines of a modified style of Spanish architecture, pleasing in appearance, well-lighted and ventilated. The climate is such as to make glass windows unnecessary. There are only shutters with movable blinds to exclude the rain. In nearly all the schools one finds pictures of Washington and Lincoln, and sometimes of Roosevelt and Taft, hanging on the walls.

High schools are maintained in the three principal cities, and their graduates pass the entrance examinations to American colleges and universities without difficulty. Each high school has a well equipped commercial department, and those who take the commercial course find their services in high demand after graduation.

A very important feature of the school system of Porto Rico—the continuation school—is now only two years old. This school provides practical instruction for those children who finish the graded schools and who do not desire to take the high school course. The continuation school provides for a two-year course in manual training, domestic science, and sewing, thus fitting the boys and girls for the practical things of life. The course also includes work in English and Spanish composition, rhetoric and literature, mathematics and book-keeping. These advanced work in agriculture is fully up to the best American standards.

The cooking schools of the island are proving an especial boon to the people and are serving to enlist a widespread interest in education. In the four towns where such schools have been established many parents have bought ovens and utensils so that their girls who take cooking lessons can prepare the family meals in accordance with their instructions in the cooking classes. The cooking course is an adaptation of a standard American course in cooking, such modifications being made as will render it adaptable to tropical products and tropical needs and tastes. One town class every morning before regular school hours, the girls making coffee and bread which is sold at cost to underprivileged children who come to school. Sometimes the little fellows become faint in school for lack of nourishment, and if they cannot pay for the food they are permitted to work out the amount after school hours.

Many Schools Have Bands.

In many of the schools bands are maintained, and the natural Spanish love for music is permitted to develop. Each band is under the direction of a competent instructor. These school bands give concerts in the public places and the music for the fiestas and celebrations held in their respective communities. The local school boards furnish the money necessary to maintain these bands.

No race of people in the world are fonder of holidays and celebrations than the Latin Americans, and the school children of Porto Rico are no exception to this rule. Their parents do not come to the school celebrations as much as formerly, because the children are learning English so rapidly that they can conduct their exercises in English, and anyone who has ever heard a speech in a tongue he cannot understand knows how interesting it is to the Spanish-speaking parents to listen to exercises in English. The schools observe Thanksgiving day, Arbor day, Washington's birthday, Tuberculosis day and Memorial day. More than 10,000 trees were planted last Arbor day around the school grounds, and probably more at the children's homes.

One of the most interesting features of the Porto Rican educational system is the scholarship arrangements, whereby the most deserving students may secure the aid of the government in completing their education. It is said that no other country in the world has as better or more complete system of scholarship support than Porto Rico. It is possible for the poorest of the island to send his child to the best universities of the United States entirely as a government scholarship student. The law provides that the municipal schools may use not to exceed 5 per cent of their funds for supporting pupils who have distinguished themselves in the neighboring rural schools. Pupils who stand highest in the municipal graded schools are awarded scholarships to the high schools, the scholarships carrying enough money to support the holders from the high schools. These are given to American colleges and universities. Other scholarships are awarded for courses of study in the University of Porto Rico and such American schools as Tuskegee, Hampton and the like.

University of Porto Rico.
 The educational system of Porto Rico culminates in the University of Porto Rico. This institution was incorporated in 1903. At present the principal school of the university is the Normal school for teachers. This has been well fitted at all times, and for awhile the demand for teachers made the course in teacher training necessarily a short one. An agricultural school is also in operation, a college of liberal arts was established in 1910. It is expected that a college of science will soon be established, thus making provision for every kind of education in the university.
